an Evening with Tony Memmel 5:30-7p

A musician born without his left forearm, Tony shares his inspirational story as a touring singer songwriter and how certain projects have impacted his music.

Artist:

Tony Memmel is a songwriter and performer with unique charisma and creativity. He was born missing his left forearm and taught himself to play the guitar, piano and harmonica. But, Memmel is not one to try to sell you on his handicap alone. He earned a bachelor's degree in music and is a classically trained and acclaimed vocalist. Memmel has toured extensively and is working to build a genuine grassroots following that will no doubt carry him far into the future. He's been featured in the Boston Globe and Chicago Tribune, was selected as a Grand-Prize winner in a Counting Crows cover contest by The Counting Crows themselves, and was recently honored to take first place in a prestigious singer-songwriter competition, in Boston. He's sold over 1,000 CD's and t-shirts, out of his trusty brown leather suitcase, to a growing national fan-base.
